Well so far im impressed with this game, though I wish there was english for this game. But with this type of game I get the idea whats going on. So it is hard to judge the game fully when for example im sure there is a menu for buttons, but once you figure it out it can be easy. Concept of the game is good and I look forward to playing more.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zA9Mc-usIr8>. I love the artwork and setting of the game, the diversity of the classes and skills seemed like it would provide a lot of replayability.

I thought it would be a nice casual MMO to spend some time on, but once you are done with the first area you are done with the free to play portion of the game, the main quest requires you to go to a subscription only area and all the bells and wistles give you a prompt that you must be a subscriber to use them.. Excellent with friends, although the AI is quite good too, even if they do wall bounce a bit too much on the difficult tracks. Cars handle well, having no brakes means you really have to think about your apexes and the graphics, weapons (which you can turn on or off) and time trial modes are good. If I have a reservation, its that there are not enough tracks. Too many are oval like and that limits the challenge. Double the tracks and this will be a must buy.. so far this game is really buggy as all early access games, i feel like it could be a very good game but needs lots of work!. A believing heart is your magic!!

No, this is not good.. It's hard to find words to describe this game. I guess it's a very emotional narrative "walking simulator" but in the best possible way. I got exactly 80 mins out of this game but I'm gonna invite my friend over to play this for himself. It's just so interesting. Personally I wouldn't recommend it at the $9.99 price tag though. I got it for $2.99 on sale but I would say it's worth it at or under $5.. It's a Interesting game with spaceships fighting with each other.

Graphics - 9/10 It's interesting

Technology - 8/10 It can be created on other engine, like unity. But you guys do a Good Job on java :D

Audio - 10/10 It's a excellent soundbank to the game (That Includes Musics).

Gameplay - 9.5/10 I saw this movements on CC (Celestial Command) on steam, and the combat mode is very funny and epic.

Suggestion:

Play this on exploration mode first.. A great spin on the hidden object games. Most of the gameplay time consists of quite the opposite of pixel-hunting. Everything becomes clickable and it is your task to find something click-worthy (resellable). It is quite relaxing, as the experience is much less streamlined and you have more than one way to overcome a bunch of different and diverse challenges that the game presents you with.

Less tediousness, more fun to play. Recommended!. A bullethell-esque game with ARPG-esque loot.

It's a bit short but it's a hell of a lot of fun. I buy a lot of cheapish games on steam and rarely sink more than an hour into any of them... I played this one through to completion (only took me 5 hours, but they were a very fun 5 hours). I haven't tried survival mode yet but if that's done right I'll definitely sink more into that.

From reading the negative review (someone thinking it's too hard/unfair) it seems that it could take some significantly more than 5 hours to play, but to call any of it unfair is nonsense. I had a few points where I struggled to beat areas but that's because I'd try to tackle the hardest available levels (relative to your current power) most of the time. And after all of that later in the game I figured out a significantly better way to change up my ship that made me much more powerful. Half the game is how you outfit your ship and that part is done well. The menu for it is a little clunky/a bit of a learning curve to navigate through it fluidly but after the slight learning curve it works great.

It's well worth the price. This is only the second game I've bothered to review on steam.

Oh.. and the negative review about controls not being customizable is bull. The customization is simply done part by part in the ship editor (and not some sort of global menu). A global menu for controls would be too limiting.. A very charming RPG-Adventure hybrid in the style of Quest for Glory, radiating waves of nostalgia. Some of the rooms V screens are downright beautiful, such as the first chamber of the island castle.

Story rich with really fun, clever puzzles. I'm enjoying it a lot!

. Q-YO blaster is a blast. I already reviewed it on itch, so I'll just quote that below:

"Just wanted to say that I got this on the sale, but this is easily worth full price or more. I couldn't put it down until I beat it! It was a wild, awesome ride. I mean, how did you come up with a bonsai tree/snail shooting finger guns while riding in a red wagon through the sky? The big pixel-art sprites are gorgeous. The game reminded me of cross between Parodius and Cuphead. I had so much fun and could tell a bunch of love was put into it. Thank you for the great game!

The story made zero sense, but I loved the vibe. Keep making games! This is the kind of game that just makes me love indie-devs."
